APPRECIATIVE SOLDIER

J. MURRAY DURHAM WRITES OF UNCLE SAM'S CARE FOR BOYS IN FRANCE

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Durham of 1679 West Seventh street are in receipt of a letter from their son, Murray Durham, of Company B, Military Police, first sent to Camp Lewis, but now in France, giving interesting details of his soldier life there. He writes:

"Well, I am at last what might be considered settled for the time being. Eighteen of us have been detached from the Company and we are stationed at a small French village doing guard duty around the railroad station. We are billeted in a French house, or rather the part of it that we call the barn. Half of the dwellings are used to house the cattle and wagons and the upstairs (minus the stairs) for hay, etc. If perchance the room in the building exceeds the requirements of the horses and cows, the people occupy the balance. We are quartered in the loft, which in this case is better than the ordinary, I believe. We have our 'ticks' filled with clean hay, which helps to promote rest, mental as well as physical. Our headquarters are in a town several miles from here. That town has a Y. M. C. A. and an army commissary for the benefit of the soldiers and we can buy almost anything we have need of, including candy, food, etc., at about the same price they retail for in the United States. All tobacco is sold to the soldiers much cheaper than at home as there are no revenue taxes paid on it. Also we are issued about all the 'Bull Durham' we need. Now to speak of a soldier's greatest concern, his stomach. We are more than contented in this village. I had my first American cooked meal after three weeks, yesterday. Before that time we lived on tinned goods and foreign cooked and flavored food. There is an army mess house here with cooks that in my estimation surpass any hotel chef that ever tried to boil a potato. This morning we appeased our gastronomic wants on the lightest, finest, thickest hot cakes I ever dreamed of. Also bacon and rice, with coffee that tasted like real coffee. If the cook continues his present line of culinary perfection, Uncle Sam will experience considerable difficulty in mustering out some of his soldiers at the end of the war. I am not saying anything about myself but merely uttering a few observations.

"What do you think of the Yanks by now? I think our division had a good reception in France when we were greeted with nothing but American victories, captures of guns and prisoners. It had a wonderfully stimulating effect on the men, not that they felt depressed or discouraged, but such news seemed to make them all the more anxious for a look and chance at the Huns. Every one, regardless of their past ideas of war and trench life was 'warm to go,' to use a western phrase, and there is not the slightest doubt in any one's mind concerning the end of it all. We have the best equipped and cared for troops in the history of the world. It seems that the U. S. is leaving no stones unturned to furnish the soldiers with all the necessities and comforts in any way possible under war conditions. As a matter of fact, when behind the lines one is very apt to forget about the war. The country is as peaceful and quiet and all the residents pursuing their usual occupations as though the war was as distant as Mars. But don't think for a minute we are not in the war.

"The French soldier is a fine type and four years of warfare seems to have had little if any effect upon his general appearance. The men are intelligent and attract any one's attention and admiration. The townspeople are very polite and courteous and very willing to do anything for us that we ask, provided we can convey by a little French, Spanish, English and a lot of gesticulations, what we want. It is amusing to watch the expressions and facial labors of the soldiers trying to talk to them. Any time you go into a store you can see some soldier pawing and sweating over his French book trying to find the name of his want, and then he is as badly off as ever trying to pronounce the word; but we generally 'get there' some way or other. I think the children will teach us more French than we will learn by any other means. Wherever several soldiers are seated or standing you can see a flock of kids. They seem to desert parents and home in favor of the 'Sammy.' Most of the boys wear an apron made of calico or gingham to protect their trousers and shirts, an incident of French frugality. They are all clean, which is quite a virtue considering the fact that the towns and houses are without plumbing.

MUSICAL TREAT

BIG AUDIENCE ENJOYS OLD AND NEW WAR SONGS AT COM-MUNITY SING

Was the Community Sing a success? Well I guess, yes. It was the happiest, most enthusiastic audience which Glendale has seen since—we will not say since the war began, but pretty nearly, and it was a big audience for such an adventure, not less than 150. It showed that Glendale's reputation as a music-loving town is not undeserved and it also demonstrated that we have a splendid colony of singers of the dependable sort. Another interesting thing about the audience was that it ranged in age from eight to eighty and those who came to look in for a few minutes to see what the rest did, remained to sing. There were no scoffers.

Of course much of the credit for a result which made the committee of promoters very happy, was due to the wonderful leadership of Professor Kirchoffer, who is so much more than a singer it is useless to try to explain him. One has to fall under the spell of his personality and enthusiasm to understand how he makes the man or woman who has no voice and who doesn't know how to sing, and who has a cold and doesn't feel well any way, lustily exercise lungs and voice, unconscious of a surrender. He is a psychologist, but better than that, he understands the art of applied psychology and exercises it in the most fascinating way.

Booklets were distributed containing old-time favorites such as "Yankee Doodle," "Dixie," "Old Oaken Bucket," "Red, White and Blue," and of course the "Star-Spangled Banner," which was sung as a benediction with a salute to the flag preceding it and after it three cheers and a tiger for the boys at the front. Besides these the singers frolicked with some of the modern ditties which have a vogue "over there." It was worth a good admission fee to hear the zest they put into "Good Morning Mr. Zip, Zip, Zip," and "K-k-k-k Katy, Beautiful Katy," and the patriotic roar of "Buy a Bond!" It was great. At the end, when some committee chairman asked if Mr. Kirchoffer should be invited to come again next Thursday, there was unison speaking and it was all in the affirmative. And Mrs. Gates of Hollywood, who is likewise wonderful as an accompanist, was also asked to come, and consented. The only request Mr. Kirchoffer made was that Glendale should undertake to double its output of singers by constituting each person in attendance a committee of one to bring another, and it is quite safe to predict that his request will be met.

Professor Kirchoffer also said some very complimentary things about the Glendale singers which it wouldn't be quite modest to repeat in print, and he said them in such a sincere way that it was delightfully convincing and made everyone feel that with such a start Glendale can have a community chorus that we can be proud of.

Mrs. Hagood and Mrs. Arnold and the rest of the musical colony responsible for inviting Mr. Kirchoffer to inaugurate community singing here, deserve a vote of thanks and all the support Glendale can give the enterprise.

NEW GUINEA BEAN

Attorney B. Middlekauff of 111 Cedar street, this city, has brought to the editorial sanctum of this paper a smooth, green, hard-shelled object, three inches long and about fourteen inches in circumference in the largest part, which he declares is the "New Guinea Bean." He knows it is a bean because he bought the seed under that name from a seed expert in San Francisco at a high price. Possibly because it is "long green," it has been pronounced a counterfeit by envious observers, or at best a camouflaged squash. He has two hills of it, one of which now covers about fifteen feet of ground with beautiful velvety leaves and "beans." The other vine has climbed an apricot tree and from its limbs depend the bomb-like fruit. Mr. and Mrs. Middlekauff gather it for the table when the shell is young and tender and say it should be cooked and seasoned like summer squash. Judged by size alone, one would seem to be enough for the dinner of a Sunday School picnic. The seeds, which are held in a silvery white web-like center, are tooth-shaped. Mr. Middlekauff considers the vegetable a great delicacy and prophesies that it will become exceedingly popular.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Saturday except cloudy or foggy tonight and early in the morning near the coast. Warm in the interior. Gentle westerly winds.

BRITISH HAVE CROSSED SOMME

YESTERDAY'S ADVANCE CARRIED HAIG TROOPS FOUR MILES BEYOND OLD HINDENBURG LINE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, August 30.—Field Marshal Haig reported today that the British had crossed the Somme south and west of Peronne bringing them to the outskirts of the city.

Beyond Mendecourt and the Arras Cambrai road the Canadians attacked early this morning with heavy gains.

Astride the Scarpe the British gained valuable ground toward Eterpigny. The British are now holding Remy.

In Flanders a British attack made progress in the Lawe and Lys valleys.

Battlefront reports this morning show the British attacked between Bellecourt and the Scarpe gaining over a mile on a seven mile front, bringing them within a mile of Queant where the two sections of the Hindenburg line join.

The French have captured Quigniny, Rouy le Grand and Rouy le Petit and several other villages in that region.

FIERCE FIGHTING NEAR SOISSONS

GERMANS PLACE TEN FRESH DIVISIONS IN LINE OPPO-SITE FRANCO-AMERICAN ATTACKING TROOPS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, August 30.—Franco-American forces attacked north of Soissons and are approaching the west side of the so-called Soissons table.

The Germans have hurled ten fresh divisions into the line to oppose them.

Beyond Noyon the French continue to advance toward Guiscard and Chauny.

In the Ailette region the French reached Coucy forest which merges with St. Gobain wood, one of the strongest defensive positions on the West Front.

This morning American artillery was heavily shelling the wood east of the Juvigny-Chavigny line.

North and east of Soissons the Germans threw their cavalry against the Americans but ferocious fighting failed to stem the tide of the Franco-American advance.

The principle roads toward St. Quentin are now in allied hands.

TWO-HUNDRED FIFTY CASUALTIES

ONE HUNDRED TEN KILLED IN ACTION INCLUDING MA-RINES, WAR OFFICE REPORTS TODAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, August 30.—Today's casualty list includes 110 killed in action, 23 missing in action, 58 severely wounded, 12 deaths from wounds, 3 deaths from accident and other causes, 6 deaths from disease, 23 wounded degree undetermined.

In the list are the following names:

George Herrier, Oakland, Cal., killed in action.

Johannes S. Mikkelsen, Del Rey, Cal., killed in action.

Charles A. Peron, 2922 Budlong Ave., Los Angeles, killed in action.

Andrew N. Tobiassen, Nevada City, Cal., missing in action.

Frank W. Robinson, Emeryville, Cal., severely wounded.

Marine casualties reported include 9 killed in action, 1 death from wounds, 7 severely wounded, 7 missing.

PERONNE UNDER FLANKING FIRE

THE ONLY REMAINING GERMAN STRONGHOLD ON THE SOMME RIVER MENACED BY THE BRITISH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, August 30.—It was announced this morning that the British had taken Clery sur Somme and Combles.

Peronne is now the only German stronghold on the Somme.

North of Bapaume the British have gained heavily and east of Sensee river captured Bullecourt and several other villages, one of which at least is four miles beyond the old Hindenburg line.

The British have Peronne under the same flanking fire that caused the fall of Bapaume.

STEPHENS PLURALITY 20,000

MAYOR ROLPH MAKES NO STATEMENT IN REGARD TO MIX-UP THAT RULES HIM OUT OF ELECTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, August 30.—The plurality of Governor Stephens over James Rolph for the Republican gubernatorial nomination is more than 20,000 on the face of returns from 5612 out of 6303 precincts in the state early today.

These returns gave Stephens 163,104 and Rolph 142,289.

Mayor Rolph remains silent in regard to the democratic nomination tangle.

Democratic leaders are meeting here to discuss some plan of action in the matter.

TRUSTEES MEETING

LETTERS FROM WASHINGTON
PROMISE CONSIDERATION OF
RATE INCREASE HERE

The Board assembled at 8:20 p. m. August 29, 1918. All members present at roll call.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

A communication was read from the Electrical Products Corporation of Los Angeles offering to furnish twenty-five electrical signs advertising the Fourth Liberty Loan, at a cost of $3.00 to the City. On motion referred to the City Manager.

A communication was read from F. H. Lowe, City Recorder, requesting that instead of being granted a vacation of fifteen consecutive days, he be permitted to take every other day during the month of September, cases to be set for hearing accordingly. On motion of Trustee Henry, the request was granted.

Applications were received from James Jensen and Thomas C. Gillette, making application for permit to hunt within the city limits. On motion of Trustee Muhleman, permit was granted the applicants to hunt within Verdugo Canyon, assuming that the permission of the owners of the land is also granted.

An application for permit to operate a motor bus was received from Arthur S. Elliott, which being approved by the City Manager and City Marshal, was, on motion of Trustee Shaw, granted.

A communication was read from Clara Midcalf of the Intermediate School, stating that as she had been delegated by the City Manager to act as a Committee to look after the service flag of the City, she had done so, adding stars as men have been called into the service and placing gold stars thereon to represent those soldiers who have made the supreme sacrifice. The communication further stated that a request had been made by some Glendale people that nurses who are called for Red Cross work also have a place of honor upon the flag. The communication suggested that a red cross about the size of the star might be placed upon the flag to honor each nurse and a red triangle to honor those in the Y. M. C. A. work. The communication was referred to the Public Welfare Committee.

The City Manager presented a schedule of proposed vacations of city employees, which, on motion, was approved.

A communication was read from the City Engineer in regard to the petition for the opening and widening of Broadway from Central avenue west, stating that while the signers of the petition had not inserted a description of the property opposite their names, yet as nearly as possible for him to verify the same, the following is the result:

The petition as signed represents 10,831.77 feet of frontage; there are 27,570 feet in the district; 1058 feet out of a total of 6,660 feet frontage west of Pacific avenue and 400 feet out of a total frontage to 780 feet between Central avenue and Pacific avenue have signed the petition. On motion, action on the same was deferred for one week.

The Manager of the Public Service Department reported that the Federal Board of Control has granted permission for the issuance of bonds by Municipal District No. 2 for the purchase of the Tropico electric light system. On motion, the City Clerk was directed to advertise for bids for these bonds and to notify the State Controller and State Treasurer in accordance with the law, of his action. On motion of Trustee Shaw, the Clerk was directed to have bonds printed for the issue of Municipal Improvement District No. 2. On motion of Trustee Shaw, the Manager of the Public Service Department was instructed to take up with the California Edison Company the matter of the valuation of the Tropico District electric light system.

Trustee Muhleman presented a resolution fixing the tax rate for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1918, and the same upon being read was, on motion of Trustee Jackson, adopted as Resolution 1047. The resolution follows:

The Board of Trustees do resolve as follows:

SECTION 1. That a tax be, and the same is, hereby levied on all property assessed for taxation in the city of Glendale for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1918; at the rate based on each One Hundred and no-100ths ($100.00) Dollars of the assessed valuation of said property, and more specifically as follows:

FLOWERS WINS

EVERYONE CONCEDES THE NOM-INATION OF MONTAVILLE
FLOWERS FOR CONGRESS

Everybody, including the friends and opponents of Montaville Flowers, candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, concedes his nomination on the Republican ticket at the primary election Tuesday. He leads Randall by about 600 votes. Mr. Flowers conducted a very clean campaign prior to the election and there is no reason why he will not have the support of Odell, Reagan, Mushet and their friends.

Randall, the present incumbent, is an honorable citizen of good principles, but he by nature was wrong on the war question. When the time came that the Kaiser showed very clear signs of putting the allies and the United States out of business, Randall took the part of pacifist and voted against declaring war against Germany.

Mr. Flowers is all right on the temperance question, all right on the war question, and he is well qualified in every other way to represent the people of the Ninth Congressional District in a very creditable manner. He will be elected by an overwhelming majority next November 5.

NEW GROCERY

Glendale housewives are being invited to patronize a brand new grocery which will be open for business Saturday morning at 1110 West Broadway. Messrs. T. A. Wright and A. E. Ecklebarger of this city have formed a partnership and established there a basket grocery. The store has been freshly decorated in attractive coloring, the stock is all new, and the place inviting. Both men are thoroughly experienced grocers and fully understand the game. They will sell for cash and make no deliveries. Mr. Wright was in the same line of business in Toledo, Ohio, for ten years. He has been a resident of Glendale for eight years, part of the time in business here, and owns the building in which the store is located. Mr. Ecklebarger was a grocer in Waukegan, Indiana, before he came to Glendale last spring and purchased "Fred's Cash Grocery" on the Verdugo road, which he still owns and conducts.

BACK TO THE SOIL

The following communication from Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Maxwell, who have been residents of this city for some time, will be of interest to their many friends here.

To Glendale Evening News:
Please transfer our weekly paper from 203 North Kenwood avenue to Table Grove, Ill. We have gone back to pigs and soil while our brother goes "over there." Please send our paper and charges to our new address. We sincerely do hate to leave Glendale and our friends, but we have to raise wheat and grease for Pershing's men.

Yours truly,
MR. and MRS. P. E. MAXWELL.

NEW FAMILY COMING

Glendale is soon to have new residents in the family of Milo McMillan from West Point, Ill. Some weeks ago Mr. McMillan advertised for a house to rent and presumably he has found it for he writes that he will soon be a citizen of this place. He intends to motor through with his family, which consists of his wife and three children. Two daughters will enter Glendale Union High School and a son twelve years old will attend the Grammar school. Mr. McMillan and his family will be heartily welcomed among us.

MR. LAWSHE ILL

Letters received from Mr. Lawshe, Vice-Chairman of the Glendale Red Cross Chapter, who with a party of friends drove overland by auto to his old home in Indiana a few months ago, state that he has been ill ever since he arrived there. He asks that the fact be advertised among his friends to explain why he has not written them. He and Mrs. Lawshe plan to leave the Hoosier state the first of October and expect to arrive here November first or thereabouts. His letter is postmarked Wabash, Ind.

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Lusby and baby son Donald, of 325 South Louise, and Mr. and Mrs. Claud Case of Maryland avenue have been at Mammoth Lake in the high Sierras for the past ten days hunting and fishing, at least deer and fish are what they went after, but no reports have come back of their luck. They are expected home the latter part of the week.

FRENCH LANGUAGE IN AMERICA

There yet lingers in the background of many an American mind some trace of the old false conception of the French as a frivolous and unstable people, and presumably in the French mind something of a notion that America is a land of dollar chasers, without worthy ideals, and given over to materialistic pursuits. Such sentiments on either side, tend to create mistrust, and it is the object of the league to foster the relations of mutual sympathy that dispel misunderstandings and bring about a deep sense of brotherhood. The founders of the organization on this side of the water include such men as Root, Eliot, Lodge, Finley, Thayer, Vincent and Wendell, on the other side, such men as Briand, Cambon, Bergson, Lanson, Lavis, and Brioux. A more representative list of names could hardly have been gathered together, and under their aegis the league should acquire a large membership. Michelet said: "The genius of France is the propagation of ideals." With this as a text, the league plans to establish a monthly review, printed in both languages, from which each country may learn important lessons from the other. That each will profit by them goes without saying, and the mutual sympathies evoked by the enterprise can hardly fail to constitute a genuine contribution to the cause of civilization.—Chicago Journal.

BAD NEWS FOR BERLIN

The war news from the eastern front these days is bad news for the German people. Quotations from German newspapers portray the gloom that overhangs the people in the large cities. That the people in the small towns and country are equally depressed is not to be doubted.

The Liberty Loan bond buyers of the preceding loans have their share in the success of the entente allies. They furnished the sinews of war not only to fight the U-boats and to build ships, not only to raise, equip, and send our soldiers over, not only to supply them and our allies with food and munitions, but more than $6,000,000,000 of their money has been loaned to our allies so that they may prosecute the war with vigor and strength.

We here at home have an opportunity to send the Germans some more bad news. The Germans have great respect for money; they know its vital value in waging war. They know, too, that the support the American people give a Government loan measures largely the support they give their Government, the moral as well as the financial support they give their armies in the field.

A tremendous subscription to the Fourth Liberty Loan will be as distressing to the German people as a defeat for them on the battlefield, and it will mean as much. It spells their defeat; it breaks their morale; it means power to their enemies. A subscription to the loan is a contribution to German defeat and American victory.

OLD MEN FOR SERVICE

The cheerfulness of men whose years entitle them to be sedate, if not downcast, has visibly been heightened by the proposal to lift the draft-age to forty-five. It is not that the men of fifty-five and sixty hug themselves complacently because the call to arms has not reached them, and probably will not. They are not thinking of their exemption, but of their opportunity. Indeed, it is not uncommon to meet older men who have been freshened by their new activity, and their added sense of being still of some importance in the world, who will put on a bold front and say that they would have no objection, if it came to that, to being put into the army themselves. The war would soon be over if they were set really to fighting! But that being impossible, the military tradition remaining what it is, they will at least show the younger generation what the older one can do when it buckles down to hard work. Hence the gallant way in which the gray-headed reserves are coming forward to do the necessary things. They call stout-heartedly to the young men: "Go to the camps and to the battle without any fear about what will happen at home. We are here to see that age will volunteer to make up for lacking youth."

In their enthusiasm, some well stricken in years have been heard to argue that this ought to be called the Day of Old Men. But one would have to be not only old, but foolish, to attempt to make that out. Youth will still be served. It is really more emphatically than ever before the Day of Young Men. Theirs the main service, theirs the thrill and ecstasy of patriotic devotion. Yet their elders cannot be denied a share in the great making of history which is going on. To be living through it at any age is to stir the pulses and quicken the imagination. It is a time when, with the country making so many calls upon her older sons, they can scarcely be blamed if they adapt for their own use the poet's saying, and declare that it is a period when it is bliss to be alive and very Heaven to be old.—Monrovia News.

THE CASUALTY LISTS

How do you read the casualty lists? Perhaps you start with the slightly wounded and read up to the deeper tragedies where you glance gingerly as on dangerous ground hoping and full of faith that none of the names there will bring you face to face with a supreme sacrifice made by one close and dear to you.

When the list has been read without any start of recognition you feel happy—but only for a second because you know that every name represents a splendid American who has given his blood for you here at home.

Are you worthy of their sacrifice?

You are not worthy if you do not give the best that is in you in backing them up. Those boys were asked to stop the German drive on Paris. They did it and in addition drove the Huns beyond their starting point toward the Rhine. You are asked to more than double your last Liberty Loan investment because the government needs at least six billion dollars. Think of that daily casualty list and then dare to put down one cent less than you can afford to invest when the campaign begins September 28. Plan to make your investment on the first day. Go over the top with the first wave—not the last.

FORD'S NEW TRACTOR MOTOR

Henry Ford has a new invention, a tractor locomotive. This latest invention is being experimented with at the tractor plant in Dearborn. It is a regular tractor fitted with block wheels which are connected with a driving rod. This little locomotive develops power enough to draw eleven loaded trucks. "This is simply one of Mr. Ford's experimental inventions at present," said Ernest Kanzlo, production manager at the tractor plant. "It is more than likely that production on a large scale will be figured out eventually. It looks to us like a winner." The locomotive tractor could be used at a great saving in large manufacturing plants, rice fields and copper and coal mines, it was said. It will do the work of many horses and mules. In tropical countries it is believed the locomotive could be used to draw passenger trains. At Dearborn it is being used to draw tons of sand to fill a small lake which borders on the traction property.—New North American.

ALIAS SUMMONS

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Arvilla Learned and G. S. Learned, her husband, Plaintiffs, vs. J. M. Mordoff and Olive J. Mordoff, his wife, et al., Defendants.

Action brought in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, and the Complaint filed in said County of Los Angeles, in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court.

The People of the State of California Send Greetings to: J. M. Mordoff and Olive J. Mordoff, his wife, S. Beck, James A. Howland, Mrs. L. M. Howland, M. L. Howland, sometimes known as L. M. Howland, John C. Lynch, receiver of Pacific Coast Casualty Company, T. L. Miller, Kirkham Wright, Allen I. Kittle, Walter Perry Johnson, George W. Turner, Cutler Paige, Frank P. Deering, Trustees of said Pacific Coast Casualty Company, John Doe, Richard Roe, Mary Doe, Jane Roe, John Black Company, a corporation, Defendants.

You are hereby directed to appear and answer the Complaint in an action entitled as above, brought against you in the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, within ten days after the service on you of this Summons—if served within this County; or within thirty days if served elsewhere.

And you are hereby notified that unless you appear and answer as above required the said plaintiffs will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the Complaint, as arising upon contract or said plaintiffs will apply to the Court for any other relief demanded in the complaint.

Given under my hand and seal of the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, this 11th day of July, A. D. 1918.

Mrs. W. H. Boothby, of Second and Central avenue, leaves Monday for San Francisco to spend a month with her brother.

Miss Maurine Cox of Santa Ana,
who has been the guest of Mrs. Mattie Anderson and family, returned to her home Wednesday.

Mr. Lindsay, proprietor of the "Million Article" store on Broadway, is moving his stock to 326 Brand boulevard and will soon be ready to receive customers there.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Crandall and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Shaw of Los Angeles spent last Monday with Rev.
E. M. Crandall and daughters Marian and Louise at 515 Pacific avenue.

Mrs. Perry of 333 South Louise has her mother, Mrs. Hyer, living with her. Mrs. Hyer has spent the past three years at the beaches. She will be at home to her many old friends.

Peter L. Ferry, the contractor, who resides at 536 East Acacia avenue, returned last night from a business trip to San Diego, where he spent several days. He is still closely occupied by his contract for the army at the Arcadia Balloon School.

Miss Jessie Shepherd of 1535 Pioneer drive and Miss Helen Reynolds of 2000 Kenneth road, who were graduated from Union High School last spring, will be students at Pomona College next year. The term opens September 23d.

Mrs. L. W. Chobe, of this city, and her niece, Marie Anshultz, who have been spending summer in the Chobe cottage at Little Bear Lake, had a chance to come down with a friend and see the rest of the family for a little while, but have now returned to the mountains.

Mrs. Wilber of Los Angeles has been spending the summer at her residence, 837 San Rafael, during the absence of her tenant, Mrs. John Cotton, who has been visiting her mother near San Diego. Mrs. Wilber is entertaining Mrs. D. R. Wilber and daughter of Los Angeles.

Architect Alfred F. Priest of this city has recently executed two important commissions. One was for a ten-room Colonial house to be built on the ranch of C. N. Kimball in Ventura county, the other for a nine-room frame residence at Inglewood for C. H. Brown, to cost over $6000.

The New York State Society will hold its annual picnic Saturday, September 7th, at Long Beach at the great pier and on the beach. All former residents of that state are heartily invited to attend. Hot coffee will be provided and in the afternoon there will be a patriotic program which will begin about 2 o'clock.
There will be a chance to see the famous Newport Yacht races.

Hugo C. Springer of 508 North Glendale avenue, Tropico district, for many years foreman of the Davis Perfection Bread Co., and the man who developed their special brand, has purchased a half interest in the Glendale Baking Company and is in full charge of its bakery. He is interested and enthused over Mr. Middlekauff's process and says he will make a big thing of the Honeyloaf Health Bread.

Mrs. Johanna Edwards of 1222
Milford street reports that her son, Sergeant Clarence L. Edwards, a member of Co. 11, Coast Artillery, is now at Camp Eustace in Virginia.
When he last wrote he was enjoying a five-day furlough granted him in which to visit relatives in New York City and on Long Island. He says the boys in his battery are all well and feeling fine, that while they find the climate rather wet, they are getting used to it and are beginning to grow webbed feet.

J. W. Brady, the swindler, who cashed some bad checks at the Ver-den Drug Store in this city not long ago, and who had made a bad record for himself previously in Glendale, according to local police, was held for $1000 bail by Justice Summerfield of Los Angeles Wednesday on four counts. He has posed as an aviator and instructor in ambulance driving. The police claim there are a good many bad checks in circulation which he issued and they are continuing the investigation of his career. He inspired confidence by wearing army clothes.

Hanford Paul Richards, son of Mrs.
Albert Richards of 1443 Salem street,
this city, who has entered the service of Uncle Sam and left Wednesday for Camp Lewis, was pleasantly surprised on the eve of his departure. Officials and employees of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, where he has been employed, presented him with a beautiful wrist watch with radium illumination face and protector. From his parents he received a handsome locket to contain his picture and identification card. He is an only child and leaves a great hole in the home
from which he went, but his mother, like others, is a brave woman, and is glad to have her son do his duty.

of Entertainments. Glendale 918-J.

L. W. Bosserman returned Thursday from a six weeks' business trip in Indiana, Illinois and other parts of the middle west.

A. J. Shepherd and family, of 1535
Pioneer drive have been away from Glendale most of the summer. They visited Little Bear Lake and also spent some time at Compton and at Hemet. They returned to their home here about a week ago.

NEW BOOKS AT BRANCH LI- BRARY

Mr. Cushing is having a two weeks' vacation. He is at the library, however, for one hour every evening to relieve Miss Hibbert from 5:30 to 6:30. Miss Hibbert has charge the rest of the time.

The following new books have just been catalogued and are now ready for circulation:

Contrary Mary.
Don Sagasto's Daughter.
The Lady Married, sequel to Lady of the Decoration.
Raemaker's Cartoon History of the Great War.
Skinner's Baby.
A Daughter of the Land—Gene Stratton Porter.
The Second Fiddle.
Ommirandy, or Plantation Life at Kingsmill.
Under the Red Cross Flag at Home and Abroad.
An Egyptian Princess.
The Tortoise.
Progressive Democracy.
The Pan-German Plot Unmasked.
Drift and Mastery.
The following, for very little folks:
A Frog He Would a Wooing Go.
Sunbonnet Babies.
The Brownie Primer.
Newane, the Indian Boy.
Emerald City of Oz.
The Belgian Twins.

NON-BOARD FIRE INSURANCE

You Glendale citizens who carry fire insurance, are you aware of the fact that some of the Board companies of the State of California are at work on measures to compel all insurance agents to join the Board and help to knock out the non-Board companies, which they have been trying to do for 2000 years, more or less, yet they still exist and get their share of the business? A number of the Board men have come to me and also their Glendale agents and tried to prevail on me to join, which I flatly refused to do. They even went so far as to say they would "break" me if I did not and told me that every agent in Glendale had signed up or agreed to it except me. Now then, let me tell you what it means. It means that every one of you would have to pay from twenty to one hundred and fifty per cent more for your insurance. Do you want to do it? Of course you will say "No." Then patronize the agent that is not afraid to "stand pat." I have been in the insurance business for twenty years and never raised the rates and I am now ready to give insurance at the same old rate; also, I think some of my competitors are in the same boat.
I want you to know that I am working as best I can for the welfare and boosting of Glendale first, last and all the time.

DEATH OF MARY E. RIGG

Mrs. Mary E. Rigg of 1452 Pleasant avenue, Los Angeles, mother of Mrs. Albert Marple of 322 Boynton street, this city, died Wednesday morning, August 28th, 1918. She was sixty-five years of age and had been a resident of Los Angeles and vicinity for twelve years. She leaves a devoted husband, William B. Rigg, and five daughters, Mrs. Albert Marple, Mrs. D. C. Brown of Burbank, Mrs. Wallace Andrews of Bakersfield, Miss Alice Rigg of Salt Lake City and Mrs. H. E. Foote of State Center, Iowa. Mrs. Rigg had a large circle of friends by whom she was greatly beloved and she will be much missed.
Funeral services will be held Monday at 10 a. m. at the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking Company in this city and interment will be made at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

DEATH OF ALICE DICKEY

Mrs. Alice Dickey, 338 Orange Grove avenue, passed away Wednesday, August 28th, at the age of 65 years. Deceased leaves a large circle of friends to mourn her departure.
She has been a resident of Glendale for some time, coming here from the East, where her husband was engaged for many years in mining. Funeral services will be held from the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking Company Friday at 2 p. m. Interment at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Kaffir grains are increasing in production in this country with astonishing speed. The crop of 53,858,000 bushels in 1916 increased to 75-866,000 bushels in 1917 and the prospects for 1918, based on the conditions of July 1, is a crop of 110-005,000 bushels, or more than twice the crop of two years ago.

The City Clerk shall certify the passage of this resolution.
(Seal) G. B. WOODBERRY,
Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

I, J. C. Sherer, City Clerk of the City of Glendale, hereby certify that the foregoing resolution was adopted by the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale at a regular meeting thereof, held on the 29th day of August, 1918, by the following vote:

Ayes: Henry, Jackson, Muhleman,
Shaw, Woodberry.
Noes: None.
Absent: None.

J. C. SHERER,

City Clerk of the City of Glendale.
The City Attorney reported having received letters from the Superintendent of Telephones and Telegraphs in Washington, stating that in regard to the matter of proposed increase in telephone charges, attention would be given to the same in due time. The City Attorney suggested that the Committee of citizens appointed some months ago by a mass meeting to consider this matter, be informed of the progress made.

The City Engineer reported having finished the cards to be sent out to property owners informing them of the change in their street numbers. On motion of Trustee Shaw, the sum of $300.00 was ordered to be transferred from the General Service Fund to the General budget fund.

APPRECIATIVE SOLDIER

sewerage, and the general sanitary conveniences the American town has.
"Well, I have just finished another one of those feasts and feel quite contented with the world in general.
This is certainly a fine day. The sun is out and it is as nice and balmy as one could wish for. France is as pretty a country as one could picture.
I have not seen a bit of it so far that was not agreeable and pleasing to the eye. Most of it seems to be composed of rolling hills of which almost every acre is under cultivation.
In some parts it is difficult to find a bare inch of ground so intensely it cultivated. Every one lives in small villages or towns, and a house between towns is an unknown quantity.
The towns are rarely more than three or four miles apart, and the houses are quite close and compact. The streets seem to follow their own individual inclinations as to general direction, making it a 'toss up' whether one can find his way back or not when he starts for any place.

"Well, this is about as much as the censor has time to peruse in quest of anything liable to offend the enemy, so will write anything else that is in my mind at some later date. You may rest assured that I am in a shipshape condition and have no complaints to make, but am glad that I am over here and doing something to hasten a victorious end.
With love,
MURRAY."

WHAT YOUR SUBSCRIPTION MEANS

When you subscribe to a Liberty

SUNLAND

Mrs. Edwards of Los Angeles is visiting her father and canning some of the fruit raised in Monte Vista Valley.

Mr. Flintum, Park Commissioner, was looking after the trees newly planted in the park. They are all doing nicely; out of 250 planted only one tree not doing well.

Miss Lucile Johnson came down from her home in the Big Tujunga and spent a few days visiting her aunts, Mrs. Geo. Huse and Mrs. W. H. Nance.

Miss Lois Percey is visiting her aunt in Sunland this week.

Everybody will be glad to hear from Paul Johnson, who was a special favorite among the young people. A letter from him received by C. Percey, says: "Tell everybody that I am fine and that I expect to sail soon, and I hope to get a whack at the Hun before long." The letter was mailed in New York.

E. Elsmor of Sierra Madre is visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. J. Richardson, this week.

Mr. Wallace of San Francisco is a guest of his son Allison on First street this week.

Percey De Wello, who is on a submarine stationed at San Pedro for a few days, came home for a short visit with his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Kirschman, this week.

Iven Spinney of Arizona is a guest at the home of Mr. Lancaster on Sherman avenue this week.

Primary election went off very quietly. There were only 43 ballots cast out of 111 registered. If people will not take interest enough to go to the polls to vote they must not kick if their choice is not elected.

The Ladies' Aid will meet at the regular place Thursday, September 5th. This is the regular monthly business meeting and a full attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hood have rented the house of Mrs. Nell Anderson and have come to Sunland to live for a while. Mr. Hood is engaged in marketing the grapes on Mrs. Cushman's place.

Hanford Freeman moved his family to Los Angeles this week. The move was made to place the little boy in a deaf and dumb school. Hanford will continue to run his truck from Sunland to Los Angeles and hopes to return here to live in the future.

Mrs. M. A. Huse has been appointed chairman of the Committee for the Federal Food Administration in Sunland, by Elizabeth M. Mumford, Woman's Director of Los Angeles county. Mrs. Huse will issue the permits for canning sugar.

The fruit growers in the valley have been much annoyed this year by petty thieving of the fruit in the orchards and vineyards. Some one is going to get in trouble if it is not stopped. The growers depend on the fruit for an income and it is just as wrong to take the fruit as it would be to enter the house and take the money.

Mr. Johnson, who formerly owned a ranch in Sunland, is spending a few days at the Park Hotel this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hingston and Marguerite Hingsten spent Sunday at Catalina.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Smith of Montrose have Dr. and Mrs. Smith as guests this week.

Mrs. E. N. Nettleton is entertaining her cousin, Miss Terry of Washington, D. C.

September 2 is War Stamp Day. Buy early and don't forget your pledges signed up in July. Double them if you can.

The Red Cross needs your hands. Come out to the Tuesday or Thursday class (you can come to both if you wish) and work for our boys. Gauze work is being resumed and oh, so many are needed. The department at headquarters is calling for these dressings and we simply must hold up our end. Don't let the appeal pass but resolve to give one day to the work.

Grant Leenhouts and a little friend, Joe Quackenbush went rabbit hunting last week. They bagged 10 rattlesnakes and for fear their story would not be believed they brought the whole lot home. It was a whole family—father snake, mother snake and 8 children.

Mr. and Mrs. Cozzelino are vacationing while their home is being painted and decorated. They will spend part of the time at Catalina.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Thomas are at Carmel by the Sea for this week.

Mrs. Theodore Hopping turned in 15 pairs of socks to the Lieutenant of her squad. She is not in the slack-er class.

There will be a picture show on Tuesday, dandy detective story, with Norma Talmadge in the big role. There is a murder mystery and a pair of missing cuff links and it's a thriller.

A. C. Cobb and H. S. Bissell have prolonged their camping trip and do not expect to return before September 15.

HUN ARMY FACES HORSE SHORT-AGE

(By United Press)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES, Aug. 10. (By Mail.)—It has been definitely ascertained that the German army is undergoing another severe crisis as regards its cavalry horses.

Not only is there a scarcity of the light animals necessary for the cavalry, but those already possessed are considerably the worse for insufficient nourishment, owing to scarcity of grains and hay in Germany.

For the moment the crisis does not appear to have affected so much the artillery and the munition and food convoys. The Germans appear to have still a fairly large number of Belgian horses for their heavy artillery, while they are daily making an ever and ever more extensive use of horses procured in Russia for drawing the light machinegun wagons and the various wagons and vehicles attached to the munition and commissary service.

A certain economy however is even apparent in the use of these prisoners having recently declared that the artillery in their regiments were drawn by only four horses each and the shell caissons by two each, just half the usual number.

Although all the horses are now rationed to three liters of oats a day, the Germans have succeeded in introducing a substitute composed of dried potatoes and other substances to which the horses have now become accustomed.

However, the seriousness of the crisis of cavalry horses for the German army is indicated by the following recently captured order:

"CARE IN THE CONSERVATION OF THE HORSES.

"ORDER OF THE GENERAL COMMANDING DIVISION:

"In spite of the orders already given on the subject of the necessity of taking the best care of our horses, soldiers and even cavalrymen are continuing to run their horses at a fast pace without necessity, either leading or not leading other horses, and trotting them on paved roadways. In the condition in which our horses are at the present moment, this means a grave menace to the combative force and offensive power of our army AND TO THE STRENGTH OF OUR HORSES, ALREADY INSUFFICIENTLY NOURISHED (Ohnehin unterernarten Pferdematerial).

"I am giving the order to all officers and underofficers to take the name and the number of the unit of all horsemen trotting on a paved roadway, and to report them immediately through the regular channels.

"I will punish all such cases with the extremest severity."

HANDLING CALIFORNIA ORES

I. V. Chown, an Oakland metallurgist, claims to have discovered a process whereby iron ores of California may be handled by direct process. He says that his method requires no great capital to establish a plant as the ores can be reduced in kilns similar to those used in burning fire brick and pottery. This, Chown states, makes available to the iron industry several large pottery plants which are now either idle or running on a restricted fuel allowance. These plants, he alleges, could turn out enough iron to justify the establishment of steel plate mills in California. Chown claims that there is really nothing new in his process and that it has been in operation in Sweden and other places.

ROOF COLORS

Have you ever seen a red-slatted or red-tiled roof upon a house of red brick? If so, you know that the effect is lifeless and displeasing, says Architect Ernest Irving Freese in the Architect and Engineer. Nature uses red very sparingly and, even when so used, it is invariably balanced by an expanse of cooler color. Profiting by this example, let the house of red brick be relieved not only by "green things-a-growin'," but also by a roof-covering of a complementary color to that of the wall beneath. In this case the roof-covering might consistently be of green-glazed tile or of slate; not red slate, but slate of cool greens, blues or purples, whichever harmonizes best with the particular red of the walls. This suggestion can not be over-emphasized, especially as regards a house built in a wintry climate, for nothing else could be more bald or outlandish than a red-walled and red-roofed house set in a verdure-denuded, snow-clad landscape.

On the other hand, suppose the masonry walls to be of a color other than red, and suppose further that the house be situated in a land of year-around summer. In this instance there could be no valid objection to a red-colored roof, for the red of the slates, or of the tiles, would harmonize well with the gray of the walls and with the green of the perpetual foliage. In the final analysis, then, it would seem that red, as a roof color, is unsuited to any but a tropical or sub-tropical climate, for it clashes harshly with a greenless winter landscape; but the greens of glazed tile, or the greens, blues and purples of slate, are harmonious with all varied aspects of nature.

Whatever be the color of the chosen material, let that color be not absolutely uniform over the entire room. Let the shades vary slightly in the individual pieces, and so give life and sparkle to what might otherwise be an exceedingly monotonous and dull-appearing roof surface. It is the very nature of both slate and tile that no two pieces of either are of exactly the same surface texture or shade of color, and to assiduously carry the matter of color matching to its extremity indicates a capacity for application that effectually belies any probable capacity for appreciating the natural possibilities of the given material.

THERE WITH GRENADES

By Frank J. Taylor
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, Aug. 13. (By Mail.)—They call him "the corporal who was there."

He went over with a raiding party to the German third line trenches. While the rest were quiet or scared, he seemed excited and happy.

He led the party in exploring German dugouts. Into the first one he found, he yelled, "Are you there?" Guttural sounds came out, and he let them have some grenades, after which he blew up the dugout while his pals were playing safer and hunting a defensive trench to fight in.

Alone, he set out to find another dugout full of Germans. He did, and repeated his first performance, ignoring the falling shells. Then he started for home, figuring that blowing up two German dugouts with Germans in them was a good enough night's work for any doughboy.

On the way across No Man's Land, he found two wounded comrades. Through a barrage, he carried first one, and then the other to the American trenches. Then a shell dropped within a few feet of him, exploded, but did nothing worse than give him shell-shock.

When he got out of the hospital, he modestly wondered why he was called "the corporal who was there."

MUNITION WORKERS TO HAVE NEW VILLAGE

HOPEWELL, Va., Aug. 30.—Working people are too valuable to be housed uncomfortably these days, so the DuPont explosives interests are preparing to spend $3,000,000 on construction of a new village in Hopewell.

This is an explosives town, and has literally sprung up out of the war. The DuPonts have immense explosive plants here, and already have spent millions on houses, clubs, and welfare projects, on the theory that whatever makes for the comfort of the employees is for the welfare of the explosives enterprise.

The new model village is to be called Southwest B village. Other villages composing Hopewell are similarly identified by letters and points of the compass. Southwest B will contain 700 new homes, ready for occupancy this year. The DuPont company has taken over 150 acres of land for the project, and its landscape architects are laying out parks and streets.

There will be a village swimming pool, a community club, commissary, and girls' dormitories for the rapidly increasing army of girl workers in the munitions factories.

This fall's building program of the DuPonts also includes a church, lodge hall, bandstand, Y. M. C. A. addition, and girls' dormitories for Davisville, the negro village within the gates of the great DuPont plant.

A BILLION COOKIES

The following cablegram has been received by the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A.:

PARIS, July 28.—One billion three hundred and fifty million cigarettes and almost a billion cookies are two of the enormous orders for supplies just placed by the Y. M. C. A. for distribution to the American troops in France, and which give some idea of the magnitude of the service rendered by the red triangle organization. A small realization of the little comforts our fighters crave and the amount they can consume is conveyed in the Y. M. C. A.'s orders for 840,000,000 cookies, representing 750 carloads; 93,750,000 sticks of gum, 112,500,000 bars of chocolate, 1,350,000,000 cigarettes, and 7,500,000 jars of jam and marmalade.

These goods have been contracted for and will be exhausted before Christmas.

THANKS, MRS. SPENDER-CLAY!

(By United Press)
LONDON, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Spender-Clay has given over her lovely country home to the Red Cross, and it is being turned into a convalescent home for American officers.

Here the Americans will be able to live on "the fat of the land."

The house, which stands in many acres of glorious wooded grounds, has room for 100 beds. Besides having every care and attention these officers will be able to see some of the finest English scenery, for the house is situated in the most picturesque part of Surrey.

The first batch of 12 convalescents already has arrived from American hospitals in London.

WASHING THE BABY IS THE LIFE FOR SOLDIER

(By United Press)
LONDON, Aug. 16. (By Mail.)—The Yankee boys are making themselves at home in England, and householders are learning to help the boys feel at home.

The doughboys don't want to go to "tea" at beautiful houses where they have to sit stiffly and uncomfortably in rows in a drawing room while lovely and well-meaning ladies sing to them—often very badly. What they do want is a touch of real home life, and that is what they are getting.

In a very short time the American soldier has made friends with the whole family. He is just left to look after himself—no fussing or embarrassing attentions are bestowed on him. After the first visit or two he just potters about, does odd jobs around the place, and in fact becomes a member of the household.

At the house of a young English married couple—the husband having got his discharge badge—two hefty American lads were found enjoying themselves immensely, bathing the babies. "Gee whizz, this is great!" they said, in which sentiment they were heartily backed by the youngsters. And the young husband and wife were equally pleased to have got on such good terms with their American guests, whom they declared to be the "best company in the world."

It's just that word "home" with all its wonderful associations, that makes the difference.

GOVERNMENT CROP PRODUCTION

It is announced that the services and equipment of railways and other large contractors will probably be utilized by the Canadian government for cultivating large areas of idle land. The president of the Montreal Builders' Exchange is working on the details of the project. The program calls for the breaking up of half a million acres of new land this year, under the managerial direction of about 50 chief contractors. In 1919 another half million acres will be put under cultivation in the same manner.

The plan involves the co-operation of the contractors with a corps of agricultural experts.

JAM RATIONS IN ENGLAND

The Food Administration issues the following:

So serious has become the food situation in England, according to a cablegram just received by the Food Administration, that the British Ministry of Food is now considering a rationing system for jam. This is but one of the emergency measures which has been caused by the partial failure of fruit crops in Great Britain this season.

Fixed prices have been established on strawberries, raspberries, and currants. Growers who produce more than one hundredweight of these may sell only to licensed jam manufacturers. This has been necessary in Cattle feeds are still scarce, with no indication of improvement in the immediate future. The British Board of Agriculture has urged farmers to adopt measures which will make them more and more independent of commercial feeds.

Tea and cheese are also becoming extremely scarce. The ministry of food is considering a rationing plan which will embrace both commodities.

HOUSING WORKERS

The Harbor Housing Corporation, incorporated this week with $300,000 capital stock, has been formed to build houses at Los Angeles harbor for employees of the shipyards. It is stated the corporation contemplates building a group of sixteen flats, and their plan has been approved by the harbor commission and the San Pedro chamber of commerce.
